Why not try one of the following activities based around our recent learning?

- 1- We have been learning about many Greek myths. Research the story of Theseus and the Minotaur. Can you retell the story changing certain elements? Who could your hero be? Who could your monster be? Could the monster live somewhere other than a labyrinth?
- 2- In Geography we have been learning about Europe. When you come back to school I want a presentation about a European country and how it is similar/different to the UK.
- 3- Next term we are learning about the Romans, can you make a help sheet to go on the wall to aide our learning? What interesting facts/ pictures/ diagrams can you discover about this interesting period in history?
